

5 Seconds Of Summer, Old Me

shout out to the old me and everything he showed me glad you didn't listen when the world was tryna slow me no one could control me, left my lovers lonely had to fuck it up before I really get to know me never a night alone. anywhere you wanna go woke up in the mornin' waerin' someone else cloths pictures in my phone whit people I don't know woke up in the mornin', how the he;;'d I make it home?

and the wondered how long I could keep it up but I wondered if I'd ever et enough and I did some shit I never should've done I would do it over now, I'd do it over

glad you didn't listen when the world was tryna slow me
no one could control me, left my lovers lonely
had to fuck it up before I really get to know me all of the mistakes

I made /4x

would have been the price

I paid /5x

shout out to the old me and everything he showed me
had to fuck it up before I really get to know me another round, here we go, going in blow for blow look in the mirror, take the punches that I throw I am constantly reminded of all the compromises all the people form the past who have a hard time letting go

and the wondered how long I could keep it up
and I did some shit I never should've done

glad you didn't listen when the world was tryna slow me
no one could control me, left my lovers lonely
all of the mistakes

had to fuck it up before I really get to know me devil at my door

get me knocking /3x
on the other side
ashes on the floor
but I am
waling /3x
out of here alive

glad you didn't listen when the world was tryna slow me
no one could control me, left my lovers lonely
