

Ad Infinitum, Lullaby

Walking through the alleys of my memories
I feel no shame nor pride
Leaving a legacy soaking in blood and tears
The necessary price
Some die so others survive
In the end kill or be killed is the lesson of life
Oh my dear don't you cry
I beg you, look into my eyes

Don't fear me!

In eternal dreaming
All my pains seem to be sinking
I am the ghost of the demon
The demon who died
And this is my lullaby

Echoes of my name, forever will survive
I'll never really die
Some will acclaim it while some others will despise
Torments I can't deny
Tell me what is wrong or right
Bringing death with the intention of saving a life
Oh my dear don't fall down
I paid the price a thousand times

Don't fear me!

In eternal dreaming
All my pains seem to be sinking
I am the ghost of the demon
The demon who died
And this is my lullaby

I carried it all along
The burden
It dragged me down but I carried on
And all the blame
That came along, I was all alone
Don't tell me
You can go on on your own

In eternal dreaming
All my pains seem to be sinking
I am the ghost of the demon
The demon who died
And this is my lullaby

This is my lullaby
