

Ad Infinitum, Reinvented

Sing, sing for the long fallen angels
Beg for the pardon divine
Following you in the afterlife
Dream, dream of the voice of the demons
Endlessly calling your name
Do you see their smile shining through the flames?

May the scars heal as time passes by
May your sins and your wars be forgiven

I play the game, heads are falling
I'm on the edge of sanity
Don't you forget, the world is changing
All you know will be reinvented

Cry, cry for the names we've forgotten
Heroes among the stars
Tears of our angels fall from the sky
Pray, pray for the future of mankind
Redemption through blood and cries
Love will prevail at the end of times

And you pray for your peace to return
But the anger is inside and burns

I play the game, heads are falling
I'm on the edge of sanity
Don't you forget, the world is changing
All you know will be reinvented
All you know will be reinvented

I play the game, heads are falling
Don't you forget, the world is changing
All you know will be

I play the game, heads are falling
I'm on the edge of sanity
Don't you forget, the world is changing
All you know will be reinvented
