Adrian Trojanowski, I am the lost one

If I could write some words to the world I would write how I feel badly
Of that I love but nobody loves me
I would write about that
I am the lost one
In my history
I know nothing
I don't believe in happiness

If I could write some words to the world
I'd write about heart pain, all that badly times

I'd write about my history, I'd write about my life

I'd write about that I love but nobody loves me I am the lost one

I am the lost one
I am the lost one
I am the lost one
In my history
I know nothing

I don't believe in happieness

I am the lost one I am the lost one I am the lost one
