

AETHER REALM, Goodbye

I fell asleep with the candle burning
Another dream; a break in the light
I have always known you don't need my hand to guide you
So push forward alone
Into the heart of the great unknown

You give me bad bad dreams and they just ain't quittin'
And I've been reading the signs
I wrote a melody and I just can't hit it
Feels like I'm livin' a lie
And when I lay my head beside you
It's not my kinda life
So goodbye, goodbye, goodbye

Pierce my eyes in your search for a better view
And hope the pain stays fresh when I think of you
I have only wished you to heed the voice inside you
And be whole within yourself
Don't make me an enemy, savor the memory

You give me bad bad dreams and they just ain't quittin'
And I've been reading the signs
I wrote a melody and I just can't hit it
Feels like I'm livin' a lie
And when I lay my head beside you
It's not my kinda life
So goodbye, goodbye, goodbye

You give me bad bad dreams and they just ain't quittin'
And I've been reading the signs
I wrote a melody and I just can't hit it
You give me bad bad dreams and they just ain't quittin'
And I've been reading the signs
I wrote a melody and I just can't hit it
Feels like I'm livin' a lie
And when I lay my head beside you
It's not my kinda life
So goodbye, goodbye,
Goodbye
