

Alan Jackson, Laid Back 'n Low Key

Laid back in Low Key, you and me on that white powered beach

Side by side with the sand and the sea, laid back in Low Key

Gentle roar of the wave on the shore

Makes its way through the crack neath the door

Wake up call from the ocean floor down in Avid Cove

Were laid back in Low Key, you and me on that white powered beach

Side by side with the sand and the sea, laid back in Low Key

[Instrumental Interlude]

Tequila Sunrise with a coconut base, hammock swingin in the palm tree shade

Standard Island beach Resort cliché, hey, but that's okay

Were laid back in Low Key, you and me on that white powered beach

Side by side with the sand and the sea, laid back in Low Key

Wind blowin on the back of my neck, sun reflectin off that tan on your breast

Found that feelin that we lost long ago down in Avid Cove

Were laid back in Low Key, you and me on that white powered beach

Side by side with the sand and the sea, laid back in Low Key

Were laid back in Low Key, you and me on that white powered beach

Side by side with the sand and the sea, laid back in Low Key
