

Alanis Morissette, Reasons I Drink

please, are the Reasons I Drink the reason I tell everybody I am fine, while I am not please, are the Reasons I overdue I have been working since I remember since I was single digits

now even though I've been busted I don't know where the drama coz that groove gat me so deep nothing can give reprieve like they do nothing can give a brake that soldier like me

here we are
I feel such rapture and the comfort is so strong
one more hit
it feels so hopeful in my need for respite and here are the reason I eat reasons I feel everything so deeply when I am not medicated so that's is I am buying a Lamborghini to make up for these habits to survive this sick industry and nothing can give reprieve like they do nothing can give me a break from this torture like they do

there are the reasons I don't even think I would quit these are the reason I can't see straight and these are the ones who I know it so deeply affects and I am left wondering how I would I function without it
