

Alessia Cara, Not Today

someday I won't be afraid of my head someday I will not be chained to my bed someday I'll forget the day he left but surely not today

one day i won't need a PhD to sit me down and tell me what it all means maybe one day it'll be a breeze but surely not today /2x

you don't know what sadness means
'Til you're too sad to fall asleep
One day I'll be snoozing peacefully But surely not today, surely not today one day I'll swear the pain will be a blip I'll have the hardest time recalling it i'll be the king of mistery management

one day that song won't make me cry anymore one day I'll get up off the bathroom floor piece by piece I'll be restored
but surely not today
surely not, not today

you don't know what sadness means
'Til you're too sad to fall asleep

one day the thought of him won't hurt the ame won't need distractions to get through the day I guess I hope I;m gonna be ok. cause I;m not today
