

American Heartbreak, 4 A.M.

American Heartbreak
Miscellaneous
4 A.M.

Sleep avoids desperate and lonely
Afternoons, solitude is golden
Comforting fake emotions
Starve myself to feel accepted
Urine tastes like water
Flowers don't feel like spring
If I never left my bed
Would the world be a better place to live
You know it would
Unsatisfactory, unsatisfied
(Repeat)

Search for words I never find
In supermarkets and check-out lines
Drugs sold at wholesale prices
Doesn't feel so bad to be alone
Impatience is my enemy
If I never left my bed
Would the world be a better place to live
You know it would
(Repeat Chorus)
Unsatisfactory, I'm so unsatisfied
(Repeat)
