

Anderson John, Sara

Anderson John
Takin' The Country Back
Sara

Some spend a lifetime searching for gold
Crossing the ocean, like in days of old
And now that I've found you I realize
That you are forever where my heart lies

From sunrise to sunset, oh Sara
You're as good as it can get, oh Sara
I keep my promise to come back someday
Oh Sara, never change

I miss the siesta and water so blue
I dream of the white sands and Sara, of you
In my heart there's a spirit like a fire it burns
Watch over our secret until I return

From sunrise to sunset, oh Sara
You're as good as it can get, oh Sara
I keep my promise to come back someday
Oh Sara, never change

From sunrise to sunset, oh Sara
You're as good as it can get, oh Sara
I keep my promise to come back someday
Oh Sara, never change

From sunrise to sunset, oh Sara
You're as good as it can get, oh Sara
I keep my promise to come back someday
Oh Sara, never change.
