

Andrea Bocelli, Someone Like You

Theres a wind that blows
Its calling your name
And its speaks to me again and again
Telling me go to her
Dont let her go
Hold her close to you
Then you will know
The meaning of love
Exactly what is all about
The feeling that I get when I cant forget
Everything that makes me want to
Thats how deep it goes
All I really know is that I love you so
And if its the only thing I ever do
Then I know its true
That I should love someone like you
Someone who believes in me
Makes my voice to sing with a heart so free
As sure as I can be
For me if one dream can come true
Then I will love someone like you
In your eyes I see
A life that could mean so much more
With you next to me
And if time is cruel
Well I wont try to hide
I could walk through fire
With you by my side
Cause after all if we want forever
Theres a hand to hold through the sad and cold
When nobody wants to know you
So never let it go
And youll never be alone
Knowing that I love you so
And if its the only thing I ever do
Then I know its true
That I should love someone like you
Someone who believes in me
Makes my voice to sing with a heart so free
As sure as I can be
For me if one dream can come true
Then I will love someone like you
So never let it go
And youll never be alone
Knowing that I love you so
And if its the only thing, the only thing I ever do
Then I know its true
That I should love someone like you
Someone who believes in me
Makes my voice to sing with a heart so free
As sure as I can be
Then I will love someone like you
Then I should love someone like you
