Android Lust, Another Void

a momentary kiss you leave me with your poison how will I exist all the fluids have left me should I compromise this artful act of seduction admit to my crime through my inaction taste fills question like another void precious is flight I need to surrender defenses annihilated retention reduced body lacerated