

Andy Black, Westwood Road

now my mind has flown away it's never coming back down drank through all the lonely days with feelings that I drowned out

all lit up but remedy pulls me back wish to god that the memories fade to black so I kneel and pray all my wasted days away

I just wanna find a way back home just let go
I am movin' on all these wasted days away
take me back to that wastwood road cuz am movin' on

o keep trying to hit rewind erase those nights without you all these lies run through my mind cuz they're the wepons I use

wish to good that the enemy won't attack

I am movin' on
