

Ataraxie, Funeral Hymn

These endless sufferings will never stop
Your departure's brought emptiness in my mind
I hear the angels singing your funeral hymn
Memories of you remind me of your wasted life

Why did you leave me here without telling a last goodbye?
Dark thoughts come to me
And contaminate my mind
So many tears I have shed thinking of you
So many nights I have suffered from your absence

These endless sufferings will never stop
Your departure's brought nothingness in my heart
I hear the angels weeping your funeral hymn
Memories of you remind me of your wasted life

Why did you leave me here without telling me a last goodbye?
Dark thoughts come to me
And contaminate my mind
So many tears I have shed thinking of you
So many nights I have suffered from your absence

The despair is getting more and more intense
So this funeral hymn will be your last one
I'm doomed for eternity to follow this mourning path
