

Avalon, Speed Of Light

3 a.m. and you're tossing in your bed
Thoughts are turning in your head
You're hanging on, but how much longer
Why do empty things you pour your soul into
Never fill that void in you
Makes you wonder

There are shadows hanging over you
I know you wish that you could see beyond
But it's always darkest before the dawn

Love at the speed of light
Comes on the darkest night
Only takes a moment to change a life
All of us need his love
Come see the wonder of
The miracle that happens when we believe
Love at the speed of light
Comes on the darkest night
Only takes a moment to make us right
We can believe in love
We can be free at the speed of light

I've heard it said the peace of mind that you desire
Is in the power that you acquire
You're moving up, but how much longer
What's it matter if you gain a wealth of gold
But in the process lose your soul
You have to wonder

There is a darkness surrounding you
I hear you pray that you could see the sun
And that's the moment your freedom comes

Break away, leave the cold night
Steal away, from the shadows
Break away, leave the old life
Dance away, from the dark
