

Axxis, 21 Crosses

I've seen the "night of 1000 lights"
The candles burn for 21
Wanted to party and celebrate
There's a tragedy began

But who will take the blame
For people crushed to death
For children dying in the panic crowd
Still hear them crying out loud

Chorus:
Will you take away the tears today when we pray
Still feel the shadows of the love parade
Will you take away the tears today when we pray
The memory of their names will still remain
But who'll take the blame

Now silence - still hear their voices cry
Can feel the chaos of this day
And if you ask: who's responsible?
Oh, but the truth is kept away

Look in that mothers' eyes
Can't stand that pack of lies
Her tears, her pain seems to accuse
She needs more than an excuse

Chorus:
Will you take away the tears today when we pray
Still feel the shadows of the love parade
Will you take away the tears today when we pray
The memory of their names will still remain
Who'll take the blame
Who'll take the blame

Solo

I'm starring at your cross -
Could I stand the loss of July the 24th

Chorus:
Will you take away the tears today when we pray
Still feel the shadows of the love parade
Will you take away the tears today when we pray
The memory of their names will still remain
Who'll take the blame, who'll take the blame
Who'll take the blame, who'll take the blame?

Dennis Stobbe,
Fabian Lorenz,
Kevin Böttcher,
Marie Anjelina Sablatnig,
Kathinka Agnes Tairi,
Benedict-Emanuel Becks,
Marina Heuving,
Eike Marius Mogendorf,
Giulia Minola,
Lidia Zafirovski,
Vanessa Massaad,
Marta Acosta-Mendoza,
Clara Zapater-Caminal,
Derk Jan Willem van Helsdingen,
Svenja Reißaus,
Fenja Siebenlist,

Anna Isabelle Kozok,
Christian Müller,
Clancie Elizabeth Ridley,
Elmar Laubenheimer,
Jian Liu