

Bananarama, Doctor Love

If you feel that something missing
Made of push turns to shove
You feel that something lacking
You may need my love
I'm on your side
When the going gets tough
I'm not asking anything
Just some love in return
I'm the one you need for sure
Open up 'cos it's Doctor Love
Hear the siren coming down the street
And my healing powers from your head down to your feet
If you feel that something missing
In your dreams at night
May need my medical science
To put you back right
I'm on your side
When the going gets tough
I'm not asking anything
Just some love in return
I'm the one you need for sure
Open up 'cos it's Doctor Love
Hear the siren coming down the street
And my healing powers from your head down to your feet
