Bananarama, I Can't Let You Go

Feels like I've been sleeping For a thousand years Secrets I've been keeping Fill an ocean with tears But I've found the answer To what I'm searching for 'Cos I felt so empty Until you touched my soul I can't let you go Now that you're mine I can't let you go I want you for all time Filled with such confusion I was losing my mind Fell for love's illusion Time after time And my life without you Sends a chill right through my heart But you made love easy From the start I can't let you go Now that you're mine I can't let you go I want you for all time I can't let you go Now that you're mine I can't let you go I want you for all time But I've found the answer To what I'm searching for 'Cos I felt so empty Until you touched my soul I can't let you go Now that you're mine I can't let you go I want you for all time I can't let you go Now that you're mine I can't let you go

I want you for all time
