

Bananarama, In a Perfect World

Love is easy
No complications
In a perfect world
Ooh, la la la la la la ah
Ooh, la la la la la la ah
Ooh, la la la la la la ah
His day is over it's just another night
The same old faces always pass him by
His heart is willing but the world's so cold
Oh how he longs for someone real to hold
She takes the bus home to her usual place
All kinds of people but they leave no trace
She knows by now that dreams are not enough
All she wanted was someone real to love
And just as surely as the sun will rise
Each one knows that there'll be no surprise
Yet still each day they live in hope and try for more
There must be someone who's worth dying for
All we need is understanding love is easy
When boy meets girl maybe tomorrow we'll try again
No complications in a perfect world
Ooh, la la la la la la ah
All we need is understanding love is easy
When boy meets girl maybe tomorrow we'll try again
No complications in a perfect world
In a perfect world
Ooh, la la la la la la ah
She'll sit and wonder where it's all gonna end
It's getting harder for the young to pretend
Their dreams may never see the light of day
It's not a perfect world that they have made
Yet still each day they live in hope and try for more
It's not a perfect world their dreams may never see
The light of day it's not a perfect world that they have made
It's not a perfect world
Ooh, la la la la la la ah
Ooh, la la la la la la ah
