

Bananarama, Through a Child's Eyes

The sun shines forever
Through a child's eyes
The sun shines forever
No worries, no ties
Laughing and learning
As time goes by
I never believed that I'd grow old
Still I can hear the things you told
The sun has gone and the nights are cold
You never told me
(Never told me)
I sit and watch the sunset
With tears in my eyes
I sit and watch the sunset
The child in me sighs
Why did you tell me so many lies?
I never believed that I'd grow old
Still I can hear the things you told
The sun has gone and the nights are cold
You never told me
(Never told me)
