

Bananarama, You've Really Got Something

You really got
You really got
You really got something

I remember how I once said
Don't let the guy go to your head
I was always the cautious one
Looking out for trouble

But I have to say
Since you came my way
Everything's alright

You really got something
Somethin' so fine
You really do move me
Move me all night

I remember my own advice
Keep on moving and don't think twice
My friends tell me I've changed my tune
Guess it's down to you

'Cos I have to say
Everything's O.K.
Since you've been around

You really got something
Somethin' so fine
You really do move me
Move me all night

You really got something
Somethin' so fine
You really do move me
Move me all night

You really got
You really got
You really got something
You really got
You really got
You really got something

I remember how I once said
Don't let the guy go to your head
I was always the cautious one
Looking out for trouble

But I have to say
Since you came my way
Everything's alright

You really got something
Somethin' so fine
You really do move me
Move me all night
