Ben Folds, Rockstar

If you want to be free Then I want you to be You're not mine anymore You're public property

You're a slave to these people who Don't even know you You think they adore you They do Then they throw you away

Give the people what they want You've got to give the people what they want Got to give the people what they want Rock star

You can shine all alone But you still need your friends To remind you you're nothing Unless you're plugged in

Cause baby the truth is You need their approval To tell you you're cool Hey, but look how you pay for it

Give The people what they want You've got to give the people what they want Got to give the people what they want Rock star Rock star Rock star

Oh, is that what you are? There must be thousands of you

So you're time is encroached now

You're image is dumbed down

You're full of it now

What about when it runs out

Maybe you'll come back

Yeah, maybe I'll be here

You're already gone

So just go

Cause their waiting for you

Yeah, you

You've got to give the people what they want

Got to give the people what they

Want

Oh, is that what you are?
