

Big Head Todd And The Monsters, Helpless

Since the first time I can't take my poor eyes off you
Though it seems I've lost my mind, you make my heart new Any fool would run but
I can't help myself around you

You turn my head, and I leave the rest behind me
Who I am, what I had none can remind me
My defenses done and
I can't help myself around you

My intentions cannot keep this face from changing
And surrender all this cold heart has been saving
I can't help myself around you
