

Big Head Todd And The Monsters, Universal Mom

You can't try to keep what you've given away

Oh, be still

Watch them, still, let them fall down

You're wasting your life trying to rescue the day

All your steel, iron will won't break this frozen ground

I know you're needing the time

Love has something for you let yourself take it

Oh my lady, tonight I want to sail to the moon and we're gonna make it

But I'm gonna need your help

You're head's somewhere else,

but you're wanting to stay

Helplessness, wordlessness, why do you let yourself worry this way?

So let there be shelter to make some mistakes

I will, you will, never control what we create

Chorus

But I'm gonna need your help

I'll tiller the soil if you tend to the bloom

Heaven flower, sun shower, let the earth move

We'll light up the world if you give us the room

Off that dress and smile to set the children of the world to rest

Chorus
