

Big Head Todd And The Monsters, Wishing Well

Missy may you listen to your heart
Missy may you listen to your heart
Missy may your drifting take you far

It's the same with everyone
Cut off chasing the western sun
I took a chance to make it better
Ended up drowning in a wishing well
I ain't likely to see you again
But God knows I still think about you now

Missy may you listen to your heart
Missy may you listen to your heart
Missy may your drifting take you far

She wasn't able to save the story
So we skidded out in a melted glory
Pushing off for the promised land
Ended up stranded on the desert sand
Hey, think on you, well...
The hell about it is the someone in your room

Missy may you listen to your heart
Missy may you listen to your heart
Missy may your drifting take you far

Missy may you listen to your heart
Missy may you listen to your heart
Missy may your drifting take you far

Ended up drowning in a wishing well
Ended up drowning in a wishing well

Ended up drowning in a wishing well
