

Bo Bice, Its Only Words

I don't know how much I can take
Before I reach the point of breaking down again.
Just like a candle to the wind
It only burns a short while
Then it's out again.
But you say it's only words.
You say it's only words.
In my heart I know
That its time to go
In my heart I know you.

Do I ever cross your mind

Love is blind they say, I still can't find my way
Although I've lost myself at times
In my heart I know you're never far away.
But you say it's only words.
You say it's only words.
In my heart I know
That its time to go
In my heart I know you.

It's only words, its only words
It's only words, its only words
