Bodies Without Organs, Gone

Now now that you're gone I see that I was blind Now now that you're gone I cry Now now that you're gone My world is turning to stone Now now that you're gone I'm alone

So many nights You would beg me to stay So many times I would leave anyway

I had love in the palm of my hand Why didn't I understand

Now now that you're gone I see that I was blind Now now that you're gone I cry Now now that you're gone My world is turning to stone Now now that you're gone I'm alone

I should have seen All the tears that you cried I should have been There to hold you at night

Now I know just what I should do Now that you're gone I love you

Now now that you're gone I see that I was blind Now now that you're gone I cry Now now that you're gone My world is turning to stone Now now that you're gone I'm alone

Now now that you're gone
I see that I was blind
Now now that you're gone I cry
Now now that you're gone
My world is turning to stone
Now now that you're gone I'm alone
