

Bread, Ann

Ann a-sleepin' on my bed
Hair a-tumblin' round your head
You will always be apart of me
When I look in your eyes... it's my reflection I see
Ann I wonder how you knew
I needed someone just like you
Were you on a beam of guiding light
That came in my life... late that September night.
And though I try to hold back the years
I cannot hold the dawn
And so I try to hold back the tears
When love has grown up and gone...
Ann I'll love you 'till I die
And when you hear this lullabye
I'll be with you though we're far apart
And you'll be with me... right here inside my heart.
