

Bright Eyes, Pioneer's Park

how did this happen
such a perfect day and unexplainable new feeling
two contented shapes entwined under the trees nothing prepares you and nothing prepares you for such an endless dream to pour itself on you and the world swelled around us
and the world swelled around us and there was brilliant light, but we were far more radiant and it is in this light we are lost the scent of summer in our hair and laying on our bed of grass with pleasure thick and sticking to the air (to the air) sticking to the air (to the air) and in this light we are lost the scent of summer in our hair (in our hair...in our hair)
