CeCe Winans, The Wind

With all of my heart I know I could love you But with all of my soul I'm driftin' away And with all of my mind I know you can save me from myself, and anything else

With all of my strength I wanna reach out for you With every breath, call out your name With every step I just want to turn around and say Make it okay

But I'm so afriad you've forgiven one too mnay times And I'm so afraid to give my heart again Just to have a change of mind And I'm not quite sure that you can trust me And I would hate to have you find me again Driftin' away like the wind

With all of my heart I know I disappointed you And altough I'm real sorry I don't know how to say this time But if I were to lose you I know, I know I'd go completely Out of my mind, but I'm running out of time But I'm so afriad you've forgiven one too mnay times And I'm so afraid to give my heart again Just to have a change of mind

And I'm not quite sure that you can trust me
And I would hate to have you find me again
Driftin' away like the wind
It blows and nobody know where it's goin' to
(Like the wind)
It blows and nobody know what it's gonna do
(Like the wind)
At night you can hear it cry as the teardrops fall
From Heaven's eyes and somehow you know it's true
These tears that fall could be fallin' for you
