Chojnacki &, I AM OVER YOU

If you could only spare a thought For all the things that lay neglected I'm through with begging on my knees One day soon, I will leave

Where I will go I just don't know I won't be waiting at your door It hasn't been good for so long Every day I sing this song

What become of us Is in the past I'm going to find a new future Coz' I am over you Not split in two I'm going to find a new future

I cannot turn the other check This a misery will just last longer When I get home I fall asleep And I my dreams I feel much stronger

Where I will go I just don't know I won't be waiting at your door It hasn't been good for so long Every day I sing this song

What become of us Is in the past I'm going to find a new future Coz' I am over you Not split in two I'm going to find a new future

I will until the time is right and close the door I walk into a moonlight night, my life again mine to explore

What become of us Is in the past I'm going to find a new future Coz' I am over you Not split in two I'm going to find a new future
