

Christina Aguilera, America people come and go in these hotel room looking for a chance to make dreams come true in America...

There's a great big future in this promise land everyone deserves to hold it their hand
in America...

you can hear the bell ringing in the schoolyard and kids are playing in the summer sun racing through the fields while they're still young

in America...
there's a seed of hope
where freedom grows
in America...
where in believe in coming home
America, where we live
in America

there's no rain coming down on this open road
there's an old man living with a heart of gold
in America

mother's losing sleep tonight working hard just to provide
in America
Oh oh...

there's a warm wind blowing right down the freeway there's a song that's playing that I've never heard but somehow I know
every single word

in America...
there's a seed of hope
where freedom grows
in America...
in America
I want to be next to you America
I will be strong... America!

footprints chasing us in the sand young loves giving another chance

in America...
there's a seed of hope
where freedom grows
in America...
in America
I want to be next to you America
I will be strong... America!
