

Derdian, Forevermore

Everyday I stay behind the window of the world.
All the times you are inside my fantasy
Run away far from your life or rise again so strong?
I can see you turn around my destiny

Now I want a chance to tell you
What I feel inside

Forevermore
I will try to take your heart
I won't close the door
Every night I'll wait the time to come
And now I fall
In the silence of my life
Looking for your eyes
Till the end of time, forevermore

I would like to change the time and bring you your true soul
But I see your eyes, there's so much emptiness
Throglor is your biggest ruin, and now you play your role
And forever you will show your thankfulness

Now another chance to tell you
What I feel inside

Forevermore
I will try to take your heart
I won't close the door
Every night I'll wait the time to come
And now I fall
In the silence of my life
Looking for your eyes
Till the end of time, forevermore
