

Derdian, Nothing Will Remain

Look in my eyes, I'll let you see
Where I keep the dark side in me
I'm not the nice guy that you want me to be
So many times, so many tears
You can't understand what I feel
It's like I am fighting the rage of the wind

I'm feeling so bad and I can't sleep anymore
Life is running fast out from the door
Time after time, day after day
I'll lose my mind and nothing will remain

Look up to the sky
There are no stars tonight
Every dream I have is something I will never find
When I lose my way
And the rain prevails
There is nothing I can do to bring it back again
When I lose my way
And the rain prevails
There's no time to change and nothing will remain

I'm feeling so bad and I can't sleep anymore
Life is running fast out from the door
Time after time, day after day
I'll lose my mind and nothing will remain

Look up to the sky
There are no stars tonight
Every dream I have is something I will never find
When I lose my way
And the rain prevails
There is nothing I can do to bring it back again
When I lose my way
And the rain prevails
There's no time to change and nothing will remain
