

Dermot Kennedy, Better Days

Better days are comin', if no one told you
I hate to hear you cryin', over the phone, dear
For seven years runnin', you've been a soldier

But better days are coming
Beter days are coming for you
So when the night feels liek forever
I'll remember what you said to me

I know you've been hurting
Wait on a train that just won't come
The rsain , it ain't pernament
And soon we'll be dancing in the sun
We'll be dancing in the sun
And we'll sing your song together
And we'll sing your song together

We never miss the flowers
Until the sun's down
We never count the hours
Until they're running out
If you're on the other side
Of the storm now
You should be so proud

better days are coming
Beter days are coming for you
So when the night feels liek forever
I'll remember what you said to me

I know you've been hurting
Wait on a train that just won't come
The rsain , it ain't pernament
And soon we'll be dancing in the sun
We'll be dancing in the sun
And we'll sing your song together
And we'll sing your song together
