

Dixie D'Amelio, One Whole Day (Feat. Wiz Khalifa)

We'd be lying in my bed
And you'd randomly get up and leave
You would make a lot of time
For anyone other than me

The more that i gave
The more you held back
Now i am emotionally starved
You're stuck on your ex
You're stuck in the past
Truth is that you really broke my heart

For one day
One day i was really
Really, really, really sad
For one day
One whole day
I missed you really
Really, really bad
And a single tear trickled down my face
While i threw your shit in the fireplace
I was really
Really, really, really sad
For one day
One whole day

I woke up and it was strange
All that i felt was relieved
No more feeling second best
I am cringing at those memories
Like the time taht you left me
Alone at the party
When i didn't even know anybody
Truth is that you really broke my heart
really broke my heart

For one day
One day i was really
For one day
One whole day
I missed you really
Really, really bad
And a single tear trickled down my face
While i threw your shit in the fireplace
I was really
For one day
One whole day

[Wiz Khalifa]
Wake up, make up
Wake up, make up
Quit your cryin'
Why you messin'
Up your makeup?
Late night, i stay up
Tryna get my money way up
Soon as o do
Something wrong
You approach me the day of
You tellin' me it's over and you're done
And you can't take no more
You walkin' out the door

And i am lying ike what you waitin' for?
Just trying to get the truth
I ain't trying to be confrontational
Before you make a decision
I'mma just let you stay

For one day
One day i was really
For one day
One whole day
I missed you really
And a single tear trickled down my face
While i threw your shit in the fireplace
I was really
For one day
One whole day
