

Dragonforce, You're Not Alone

Emptiness, tears inside
On the night before she died
Strong the fire that burned so bright inside of me

Through the years, through it all
You touched my heart, you touched my soul
Never gave up the fight, but tonight you'll be free

All the tears in my own heart bidding
But I want you to know...

High the mountain we must climb, so far beyond the ocean's tide
We're torn apart but soon we'll all be home
And our hearts forever more entwined
We'll save the night we said goodbye
No matter where you are, you're not alone

Long nights and a lonely cry
Cold thoughts of a brighter time
An empty picture in an empty frame
Would you take me away?

All the through my own eyes searing
'Till the end of our days...

High the mountain we must climb, so far beyond the ocean's tide
We're torn apart but soon we'll all be home
And our hearts forever more entwined
We'll save the night we said goodbye
No matter where you are, you're not alone

High the mountain we must climb, so far beyond the ocean's tide
We're torn apart but soon we'll all be home

High the mountain we must climb, so far beyond the ocean's tide
We're torn apart but soon we'll all be home
And our hearts forever more entwined
We'll save the night we said goodbye
No matter where you, I am not alone
