

Ed Sheeran, Stop The Rain (Equals)

Another human cloud to bring you down
When you blew the last away
And bring out a poisoned tongue or plastic crown
But from here they look the same

Sometimes it can get all too much for me
And that's why the photograph gets burned, throw the match in gasoline

Don't let the ones who hurt you see you cry
Tomorrow is another day

You cannot stop the rain, no way
Holding an umbrella when the grey clouds come over again
Try'na find something real
But it's not the game they play
Pretending that the weather is in your mind and you got no one to blame
But that's just the way I feel
You cannot stop the rain, yeah yeah yeah yeah
You cannot stop the rain, yeah yeah yeah yeah

Another I, me, mine, to blur the lines
Between love and then heartbreak
It's a lonely life thinking you're right
And always shifting blame

Every time it's getting more and more ugly
And that's why the photograph gets burned, throw the match in gasoline

Don't let them tell you keep it all inside
I know the winds have got to change

You cannot stop the rain, no way
Holding an umbrella when the grey clouds come over again
Trying to find something real
But it's not the game they play
Pretending that the weather is in your mind and you got no one to blame
But that's just the way I feel
You cannot stop the rain, yeah yeah yeah yeah
You cannot stop the rain, yeah yeah yeah yeah

And it seems like time can be so much more than a wakeup call to live real life
Every day is a chance that we can start over
Read my mind, there'll be ups and downs, but it won't change a thing between you and I
There's one thing I can't change

You cannot stop the rain, no way
Holding an umbrella when the grey clouds come over again
Trying to find something real
But it's not the game they play
Pretending that the weather is in your mind and you got no one to blame
But that's just the way I feel
You cannot stop the rain, yeah yeah yeah yeah
You cannot stop the rain, yeah yeah yeah yeah
