

Edyta Bartosiewicz, All That Lost Time

Those big territories
Some mysterious lands
Oh I can hear they are calling
Calling my name
I've been here long long time
Oh long enough
Now I feel I should hurry
I'm taking off

I don't wanna turn
The whole world upside down
I'm only trying to find my own way
I don't wanna think of all that lost time
There is nothing to blame
But myself

I need every hour
Time's running like crazy
It makes me so excited
It scares and amazes me
And I'll leave all my sorrow
'Cause I have to be strong
It can take long to find
The place I belong to

I don't wanna turn
The whole world upside down
I'm only trying to find my own way
I don't wanna think of all that lost time
There is nothing to blame
Even if I never tried to get away
You know you can never be sure
I don't wanna think of all that lost time
Time - time - time

I don't wanna turn
The whole world upside down
I'm only trying to find my own way
I don't wanna think of all that lost time
There is nothing to blame
Even if I never tried to get away
You know you can never be sure
I don't wanna think of all that lost time
There is nothing to blame, but myself
We all get confused
Chasing the time we lose
We need to pretend
We always fight till the end
To save our lives

I don't wanna think of all that lost time
I don't wanna think of all that long time
I don't wanna miss all that long time
