

Eighteen Visions, Tower Of Snakes

You told me no apologies
but I'm sorry it couldn't cut the mustard and it's absurd
Hey, you turned the light off
You gave me darkness
You sucked the blood right out of life
Are you running away from me?
Are you running away from you?
You showed me what I should see
but I'm still blind and I can't breathe
You swallowed pride like someone died
You chewed it up and spit it out but no one's to be found now
Are you running away from me?
Are you running away from you?
Hey, what are you running away from?
You told me what I should see
but I'm still blind and I can't breathe
Are you running away from me?
Are you running away from you?
