

Electric Light Orchestra, Sorrow About To Fall

There's a silence in the city
There's nobody around
And everyone that we knew
Moved to higher ground.

There's a shadow hanging overhead
It lingers there alone
Changing all we ever knew
The changes start to show.

CHORUS:

There's a sorrow about to fall
There's a sorrow about to fall.

There's a new sound in the wires
And ears are to the ground
And everything that once was ours
Has slowly turned around.

Something happened to the seasons
Started falling with the rain
And something changed forever
We gotta find a way.

REPEAT CHORUS

There's people in the photographs
But they all had to run
They went away to somewhere
Beyond the setting sun.

REPEAT CHORUS

REPEAT CHORUS

Sorrow about to fall, fall, fall, fall
Sorrow about to fall
Sorrow about to fall
Sorrow about to fall...
