

Elton John, Taron Egerton, (I'm Gonna) Love Me

oh, the joke was never hard to ell threw my fair fair change in the wishing well the dream alone is always in your hands if that don't fill the boy and build the man a heart has many secrets, so I am told through the years , a theory can grow cold I am up to be the king, it's gotten clear the voice inside my head is the one I hear singing I am gonna love me again check in on my very best friend find the will that will fill my cells rise above the broken rails unbound by any ties that break or bend

I am free, and don't you know?
no clown that claimed he used to know me then
I am free, and don't you know?
I am gonna love me again the golden age was somehow bittersweet but now the past lies sleeping in the deep the peaceful days that followed hollow nights a kiss or touch could feel like Kryptonite praise the saints that hung up on my wall for trust is left in lovers after all a whispered word emerging from a tale my wake up call to claim the cursed spell

And singing I am gonna love me again check in on my very best friend

I am free, and don't you know?
I am free, and don't you know?
I am gonna love me again

I am free, and don't you know?
I am free, and don't you know?
I am gonna love me again
