Emerson, Lake & Palmer, Lover To Lover

LOVER TO LOVER (Keith Emerson/Robert Berry/Carl Palmer)

Tell me is there something that I should know?
Are we wasting time, have nowhere to go
Why do we say that everything's all right? We'll take the tears
Those wasted nights sit without a sound
Inside our world that it's breaking down, we lie there

Lover to lover, face to face, tearing apart all that we made Thinking each other's the one to blame, lover to lover there's nothing 2 gain

Give me something back so we can hold on And keep it together, we must stay strong Did we let go as time moved on, oh the same old line The lights go out lying wide awake The words don't come how much will it take, we lie there

Lover to lover, face to face, tearing apart all that we made Thinking each other's the one to blame, lover to lover there's nothing 2 gain

No one could take away that feeling Lost in our world we found a dream worth building Oh and all of it felt so right, so much of life to live, oh oh oh

Whoa oh, lover to lover, face to face, tearing apart all that we made Thinking each other's the one to blame, lover to lover there's nothing 2 gain Whoa oh, lover to lover, face to face, tearing apart all that we made Thinking each other's the one to blame, lover to lover there's nothing 2 gain Lover to lover, face to face, tearing apart all that we made Thinking each other's the one to blame, lover to lover
