Empires, I Want Blood

I want blood, I want blood from you If it ain't your love, I want blood from you

Desperate and a little delusional You put my heart to grindstone I'm waiting anxiously outside your home Oh dear, the biggest of all fears You wish to hell I was not here You wish to hell and I appear Oh dear

I want blood, I want blood from you If it ain't your love, I want blood from you

Quiet now, you're sucking the charm out I tried the "get you to love" route But now the monster in rage holds me down Anger's a lesser disaster The truth is I've got a fever You scream insanity, I'll be right there

I want blood, I want blood from you If it ain't your love, I want blood from you I want blood, I want blood from you If it ain't your love, I want blood from you

Oh, we've got trouble now

I look for answers but there's nothing I will see No matter how far away, everywhere you seem A mirror arrangement in my eyes and you repeat And it tempts me to believe

And I want blood, I want blood from you If it ain't your love, I want blood from you Yeah, I want blood If it ain't your love (I want blood from you)
