Eno, Brian, Bone Bomb

My body So thin So tired Beaten for years Ploughshare to bomb So hard

Bonebomb Bonebomb Bonebomb

My town
So dusty
So dry
Buildings pushed over
Lives heat together
Young girls dreaming of beautiful deaths
Pop star pictures above their beds
Above their heads
Troops

Everything stolen
Except my bones
Now I am only bone
I waited for peace
And here is my peace
Here in this still last minute of my life