

Eskobar, Angels

"Angels"
Did it ever cross your mind to leave the world behind take a walk with friends no longer alive

When the days they pass you by like the clouds run through the sky you're in your heart still wondering why

No more playgrounds
no more laughter in the sun Hard times will come marching feet and men with guns this time we need angels to protect our homes one for every house

No more playgrounds
Hard times will come
marching feet and men with guns
this time we need loving to protect our souls one for every man
