

Eskobar, Slowly Starting To Feel The Pain

Now I'm slowly starting to feel the pain,
A thousand miles away from being sane
Now I don't know what I'd do if you'd left me not
I know that your love is something that I forgot trying to sleep, but there is something that blocks my way trying to keep, a little distance from allthis pain...

Now I'm slowly starting to feel the pain

Now I'm slowly starting to feel the pain,
A thousand miles away from being sane
Now I don't know what I'd do if you'd left me not
I know that your love is something that I forgot

trying to keep, a little distance from allthis pain...

Now I'm slowly starting to feel the pain
