Esmee Denters, Crazy Place

It's the most beautiful thing I think Ive ever seen

A homeless child playing with something as simple as a cardboard box and he seems so happy with that smile on his face like nothing matters hes so serene when he doesnt even know if hes gonna live through another day worrying about what hes gonna when I look at that it kinda makes me feel guilty cause the world that Im living in only seems to care about having enough money to buy luxurious things that we dont even need

I'm not trying to be the good girl to save the world cause I do the same damn thing (Chorus)

isn't it a shame, but we only have ourselves to blame

but love is the most beautiful thing but its a lost somewhere along the way to money and fame (to money and fame)

Isnt the world a crazy place we were all brought up with different dreams and beliefs but the one thing we all need is to be loved by friends and family and when a child like that with no parents around is able to smile makes me feel very weak, small, when I look at that it kinda makes me feel guilty cause the world that Im living in only seems to care I'm not trying to be the good girl to save the world cause I do the same damn thing (chorus)

isn't it a shame, but we only have ourselves to blame

it makes me conscious of all of the things I have and makes me feel oh so fast it makes me want to follow my dreams and tries to be a better person it takes me to a higher level it makes me wipe away all a my tears it helps me put a smile on my face cause everything I need is right here isn't it a shame, but we only have ourselves to blame

but its a lost somewhere along the way to money and fame (to money and fame),

but its a lost somewhere along the way to money and fame isnt the world a crazy place (isnt the world, .. isnt the world..)
