Eternity X, Zodiac Prologue

There is a place within every living thing that holds the key to its creation
It is in this place we find who we are
It is also in this place we find the secret of the Zodiac

Welcome to my world Step into my mirror There's twelve stories to be told And a billion souls to hear

There's fire that burns so brightly There's water that flows through lives There's air that we never see And earth the mother of life And the Zodiac