Ethan Gruska, So Unimportant (feat. Bon Iver)

Don't look down Hold up your head now Hang on to your honor Don't know why I've compromised you the most

You pull it closer Don't make it hard now If I remember one thing It's that I don't surprise you at all Anymore

Is there something that you want to say to me? Is there somewhere that you want to escape to? I'll cling like a waterfall While I don't recognize you at all Anymore

You watch me burn out like a rocket I catch you mumbling it time after time I just want all of it to stop your crying I'll take the bribe now It's so unimportant what started the fight

All eyes ahead It's sadder at the end I drink till I'm falling down And I'm hanging on by a thread

Is there something that you want to say to me? Is there somewhere that you want to escape to? I'll cling like a waterfall While I don't recognize you at all Anymore

You watch me burn out like a rocket I catch you mumbling it time after time I just want all of it to stop your crying I'll take the bribe now It's so unimportant what started the fight
